“Reference is made to your letter dated 27th July 2019 notifying the Management of your resignation from your post as Executive Human Resources Manager.

It has been brought to our attention by many employees, that you have been criticizing the Management and the Company within the last few months of your employment and specifically since handing in your resignation. The management has been notified in writing that you have been acting spitefully towards your subordinates and colleagues, wherein said employees has found it increasingly difficult to continue working in your department. These kinds of unethical behavior in the workplace is simply intolerable particularly when you represent the company as an Executive Human Resources Manager.

As an Executive specializing in Human Resources, such actions violate the code of conduct and ethics of human resources. Your behavior and conduct leave us with the impression that your
